

Chromosome Mapping:

- distance between genes defined as percent of genetic recombination observed during a cross between an organism homozygous recessive for both genes and another heterozygous for both genes
- one map unit = one percent genetic recombination

Method:

